

Greatest Wealth

The respected Comrade Kim Jong Un presided over the 22nd Emergency Enlarged Meeting of the Political Bureau of the Eighth Central Committee of the Workers' Party of Korea held in the flood-stricken city of Sinuiju in North Phyongan Province.

Before concluding the meeting, he said to the participants as follows: The flood damage is serious, but our people would believe that the Party and government will surely take necessary measures for rehabilitation. This is the greatest wealth and resources for us.

Comrade Kim Jong Un personally came to the flood-stricken area without caring for his personal safety and guided the operation of rescuing flood victims. And he made sure that the Political Bureau of the Party Central Committee held the meeting on a train which stopped on the inundated paddy field and adopted a decision on rapidly repairing the flood damage.

That day he said: Our people's trust in their Party and government is the true resources which can never be obtained with money. We should treasure it and live up through practice to the expectations of the people for the Party and government.

Listening to what he had to say, the officials were convinced that the song of the people's happy life would resound forever on this land as they live in the embrace of the benevolent father with a noble outlook on the people.
